CHANGES IN THE PRESS.

There are some contemplated changes effecting the publication of the PRESS, some of which we are at liberty to make at this time. A new cylinder power press was ordered in January, which should have arrived from the East ere this. This press is to be used in printing the CAMPBELL PRESS and EAST SAN JOSE POST, both publications being under one management. As soon as the new press is installed the PRESS and POST will be enlarged to a four page, six column newspaper size. We expect to give a better and more newsy PRESS, and we feel that our readers have been very patient the past six months in receiving a paper which has not been up to standard, but which under the circumstances was unavoidable. With the new press in operation we expect this to be changed. A number of new features will be introduced, one of which will be a serial story extending over many weeks, which deals with Abraham Lincoln's love affairs, written by Mr. Lincoln's friend and bodyguard—Ward Hill Lamson. It deals with an interesting side of the lamented president's life, heretofore little written about.

YESTERDAY the East San Jose election officers were called to give testimony in the election contest. This testimony was clear and straightforward. It showed that the irregularities in the recount must be laid at someone else's door. For instance, the members of the board were a unit in saying that there were about 23 straight democratic tickets, 9 straight socialist tickets, and 39 straight republican tickets counted at the time of the election. It now transpires that there are but 3 socialist straight tickets, 9 democratic, but 41 republican, a strange thing to say the least. An attempt was made by Langford's attorneys to put on the stand eight or nine socialists who would testify that they voted the straight ticket. The value of such testimony is apparent when it is known that Ross (republican) now has 7 of the original 10 socialist votes given to Bell, socialist. Judge Welch ruled out this class of evidence upon objection by Ross' attorney.—Post.

New candidates for Congress in the campaign of 1908 are already coming to the front. Senator Black of Palo Alto has announced himself as a candidate in the Fifth District that is now represented by E. A. Hayes of San Jose — Riverside Daily Press.

This is going five hundred miles from home for news, but it is news to us.

Railroad Developments.

The Southern Pacific is completing plans for an electric railroad between San Francisco and San Jose. The terminal will be at Twenty-fifth and Valencia streets, San Francisco, where a costly depot will be erected on the site of the present one, the upper stories to be used as a hotel.

Within two months the Southern Pacific will abandon its road through the Mission and use its new bay shore cut-off which connects with the Coast Division at San Bruno. The existing Mission part of the Southern Pacific south from Twenty-fifth and Valencia streets to San Bruno will be used as part of the electric line to San Jose.

Under the name of the Peninsula Railroad Co., the Harriman people are building an electric road north from San Jose to San Mateo. The gap between San Mateo and San Bruno will be filled by means of a deal E. H. Harriman wants to buy the part of Calhoun's line between Holy Cross Cemetery and San Mateo. If the deal falls through Harriman will parallel the road. It is said that Harriman has offered Calhoun very favorable terms, and that Calhoun is disposed to sell.

Harriman already owns the San Jose and Los Gatos electric road, which he plans to have absorbed by his Peninsula company. He will build an electric road from Mayfield to Los Gatos. By this Mayfield-Los Gatos cut-off, which will also be used as a steam road, the Southern Pacific will get a 70-mile route from Third and Townsend streets to Santa Cruz, via the Coast line south from Wrights station.

These Bills Should be Signed.

In the Assembly recently the two measures designated to increase the salaries of teachers in the public schools of California were passed with but six dissenting votes.

One bill makes the term "census children" refer to boys and girls in the State between the ages of 4 and 18 instead of 5 and 16, as at present, thereby increasing the State appropriation for school maintenance about 16 per cent.

The other makes it obligatory upon the part of School Trustees to use 60 per cent of the county school funds in the payment of teachers. This will raise the salaries of grammar school teachers about $10 each per month, and is the culmination of a movement set on foot at the last meeting of the State Teachers' Association, held in Fresno.

These bills passed the legislature and are in the hands of the governor for his signature.

THOUGHTS FOR TO-DAY.

The day is done, and the darkness Falls from the wings of night, As a feather is wafted downward From an eagle in his flight.

Then read from the treasured volume The poem of thy choice, And lend to the rhyme of the poet The beauty of thy voice.

And the night shall be filled with music And the cares that infest the day, Shall fold their tents like the Arabs, And as silently steal away.

A DREAD DISEASE.

The following account of the re-appearance of anthrax in the county appeared in the Mercury and is of great importance. Our readers should at once take every precaution to guard against its getting a foothold in this locality and especially should those owning cows take immediate action to have them inspected:

Anthrax, one of the deadly diseases of cattle, that is transmissible to man, has broken out in East San Jose and the Supervisors have authorized County Health Officer, Dr. William Simpson to take every necessary measure to stamp out this disease which has not been observed in this county for 5 years or more. To this lapse of time is considered due the probable recovery of two men who have contracted the disease and are still alive, anthrax in the human race often proving fatal within 48 hours after the first symptoms appear.

To stamp out this disease and to prevent all possible spread of it, Dr. Simpson has engaged Dr. P. H. Browning, president of the State Veterinary Surgeons' Association to examine the premises and put under strict quarantine every animal that has been exposed to it. Not only the stock but chickens, dogs and cats will be examined and in case they react to tests for anthrax, the lesser animals probably will be killed, while all the stock will be inoculated against this formerly quite prevalent disease.

According to the history of the case as presented before the Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon, a cow fell dead two weeks ago on a small ranch on McLaughlin avenue owned by Henry Emmanuel. The animal was skinned and the hide sold to the tanner's agent, while the meat of the animal was cooked and fed to the dogs, cats and chickens of the neighborhood.

Seven days later, Emmanuel and a man who assisted him, were taken down with the strange malady. Dr. W. S. Van Dalsem was called to attend to Emmanuel, while the other case was observed by Dr. F. C. Gerlach. The same curious symptoms were manifested in each case and the physicians reported it to the Board of Supervisors realizing the danger to the whole community if the disease were not immediately taken in hand and its possible spread prevented.

Other Cattle Exposed.

The pasture lot in the rear of Emmanuel's place formerly was used for dairy animals and is now utilized for turning out many family cows in East San Jose. How many of these have died manifesting similar symptoms been exposed to the disease is not known, but as three other cattle have it is believed that some may have been exposed to it that have not yet shown the symptoms.

To be sure that this is not the case, Dr. Browning will examine every animal that has been staked out in this pasture and inoculate all cattle whether they show traces of the disease or not. Usually the disease makes quick work of a herd that contracts it and immediate treatment is necessary.

Frequent deaths from anthrax occurred in East San Jose some years ago, but the disease was believed to have been eradicated from the locality. It is well known to bacteriologists, however, that germ diseases in general may be started from bacilli that have lain dormant for many years. Cases where germs have been thawed out from ice and produced death to animals are known and the only safe way to get rid of so virulent a disease as anthrax is believed to be destruction by heat or corrosive chemicals of the carcasses of animals that have fallen victims in such cases.

In the case of the cattle that died from anthrax, this was not done. The carcasses were merely buried. Industrious earthworms may have brought the germs to the surface and caused the inoculation of the cattle. That this did not happen in other years may be due to the excessive moisture in the ground and the consequent depth to which the angle worms penetrated.

In any case, says Dr. Browning, the unquarantined case of diptheria or disease is as great a menace as an smallpox would be and as prompt means must be taken as in any case that concerns human life only. Anthrax formerly was a widespread disease and so many persons handling wool were killed by the effect of it in sheep that the United States government was compelled to act.

Scores of experts took up the work and an effective preventative was found and distributed among the sheep men of the West with the effect of practically eradicating the disease. Cases were found by the government where wool combers, five thousand miles from the infected animals, were killed by it, but it has now become so rare that a case of it attracts great attention in the medical world.

In view of its communicability through the hair of animals that die from it, the work of Dr. Browning will not be considered finished by him until he has traced down the hide of the Emmanuel cow and had it destroyed. This measure is to prevent the transmission of the disease to some tannery employe.

Anthrax Often Fatal.

As anthrax has proven so fatal to human life in the past, it is considered little short of marvelous that the two men who caught it are recovering. This is explained by Dr. Browning on the supposition that the germs had lain so long in the ground that they had lost their virulence. Bacteriologists have found that germs falling in unfavorable places dry up and form spores which when the proper conditions present themselves, immediately assume the germ form again and after a few generations are as active as ever.

Dr. Browning will report to the Supervisors this morning as to the extent to which the disease has spread and the measures that should be taken to ward off its possible contraction among residents of the county. The lack of laws requiring physicians or cattle owners to report such cases as this, is almost a menace to society in the opinion of veterinarians and some action leading to their enactment may be taken at the coming meeting of the State Society at Fresno.

A new case of anthrax, the dread animal disease whose appearance in the county after a lapse of many years was brought to the notice of the Supervisors Monday, was discovered yesterday by Live Stock Inspector P. H. Browning, who has been given full charge of eradicating this menace from the city and surrounding territory.

George Frank, a fruit dryer, lost a cow Monday and on reading in the Mercury of the appearance of anthrax in East San Jose, he notified Dr. Browning, who made an autopsy on the carcass of the cow and found unmistakable signs of anthrax. This discovery has given the extermination of the disease a new turn, for the cow in question was fed in Mr. Frank's private pasture at the corner of Chapman and Emory streets, several miles from the infected pastures in East San Jose.

The appearance of this disease in the College Park district, as well as on the outskirts of the city, will make necessary an inspection of all dairy animals in this vicinity. So far as can be learned, no other cows in the College Park district have been exposed to possible infection from Mr. Frank's bovine, but all necessary precautions will be taken immediately.

As far as the East San Jose men who caught the disease are concerned, they are still on the road to recovery and their physicians do not fear a fatal termination to their cases as is generally the course of mankind when attacked by this dreaded malady. That they have survived the first days of the attack is deemed an indication that both will recover.

An inspection of the pasture where the anthrax first appeared has resulted in the quarantine of the animals at large there, two herds of ten and fifteen cows respectively. This quarantine will be rigidly maintained by the entire neighborhood until anthrax vaccine can be obtained and the animals rendered immune from infection.

Then they will be allowed to be taken out and the pasture will be put out of commission for an indefinite time. This is believed to be the only way to safeguard other residents of the locality from this disease that is so easily communicated from animals to man and generally is fatal to both.

As to the proper procedure in the case of the College Park pasture, it also will be closed to stock and all animals in the vicinity will be given immunizing treatment by Dr. Browning. Anthrax has been absent so long from Santa Clara county that it may be some days before the serum will be available. Meantime, all sick cats, dogs or chickens in either of the localities will be viewed with suspicion and alarm by their owners.

Rochdale Company's Annual Meeting.

Last Saturday evening the Campbell Rochdale held its first annual meeting in the library room.

We are informed that the result of the year's business is eminently satisfactory, the company paying 8 per cent to the stockholders besides a trade discount of $3.90 on each $100 of trade given to the store. Manager Wm. Beattie was given an endorsement for the showing made.

A banquet followed the annual meeting, it being held in the Coffee Club, 75 covers being laid, and they were all taken, those present being members, with their families, with a few exceptions.

Mr. Beacock acted as toastmaster, he calling upon Rev. A. H. Needham, Dr. C. N. Cooper, W. W. Dunham, A. C. Keesling, Wm. Beattie and D. H. Coates, the latter speaking to the subject "A new home for the Rochdale." We understand there is a movement on foot looking to the securing of a more commodious store room.

Reserve April 26th.

Wm. Beattie made a business trip to the city this week.
